ENDORSEMENTS

WEBINAR SERIES PARTICIPANTS

I am thankful for this shame and honor webinar class. I've worked in French Africa for the last 25 years. Werner's book and his teaching on honor and shame are pertinent daily in my ministry. –Mary Stone, TEAM

Werner aims for heart-integration in this class that leaves both lay and scholar with an honor-shame framework to integrate faith with holistic kingdom living. I've been training people in this arena for over a dozen years, yet God is using Werner's passionate and integrative approach in this class to so bless my heart. –Steve Hong, KingdomRice

Through his book The Global Gospel and especially the webinar series, Werner has clearly, and with great depth, helped me to understand the importance of honor-shame. I am motivated me to preach it to the church to which God has called me. Also, the Study Guide exercises really help to personalize these truths. –Dennis Schwarm, Pastor, First Baptist Church Of Oakridge

Outstanding introduction and review of the world of Honor, Shame and the Gospel. Werner's humble delivery and personality never impede the scholarly potent message. –Marilyn Nasman

Thank you for these wonderfully helpful webinars. Each one is like a bit of yeast which really starts working after the session ends, and continues to bring transformation in our thinking and seeing. Having lived in an honor-shame culture for close to two decades, I am well aware of the many individual differences which exist between my host and home culture. However, the honor-shame webinar training has helped me begin to understand how all these individual differences hang together in a coherent worldview, and more than that, to find that same worldview throughout the Bible! –David Bakewell, Frontiers

SEMINAR PARTICIPANTS

"I have found Werner's material more helpful than any of the missionary seminars I had been to. This honor-shame material helps us craft messages that are relevant to the heart and soul of people for whom concepts of purity, defilement, and honor-shame are at the core of their being."

–Sam Winfield, Avant Ministries

[After one-day honor-shame conference] ... "Werner passion and expertise of the subject matter moved our hearts. His training and personal stories resonated with our audience, many of whom work directly with Muslims and Middle Easterners. We learned how Jesus covers our shame and restores our honor." –Shirin Taber, Director, Middle East Women's Leadership Network

[After a two-and-a-half day honor-shame seminar in Thailand] ... "We heard from one of the leaders; he said although this is your first time teaching in Thailand you spoke like one who has known the Thai people all along. The leader said that you spoke like one of them. He further said that he had never seen or heard of any Westerner who so identified with the Thai culture like you. This confirms we are on the right track with the language of honor-shame."

–Chansamone Saiyasak, PhD, Director, Mekong Evangelical Mission, Thailand

[After a one-day seminar, from a career missionary couple who have served among Muslim peoples] ... "regarding your training held in Turkey ... I thank God for the effort you have put digging into God's Word. With your training and insights, I feel like the full banquet table of the Gospel was spread out for me and I can fully enter into it. It's been transformative for my own soul, and for how I look at sharing the Good News with the many people groups." –Debbie (and Dave), EastWest Ministries

[After three weeks in India, teaching a two-week class on "Honor, Shame, and the Gospel" plus teaching in a week-long pastors conference] ... "Werner, you have impacted pastors from many language groups. It's so meaningful because most people in our country understand the stress of being in shame. You have helped the pastors understand how God can reverse shame into honor through His Son. This is going to leave a lasting impression on many of our people." –Paul R. Gupta, PhD, President, Hindustan Bible Institute & College, Chennai, India
